

Dear Stakeholders,

Call for Stakeholder Support: Review and Assessment Development for Cable Jointer Qualifications

The Energy and Water Sector Education and Training Authority (EWSETA) is currently in reviewing all the registered occupational qualifications and part occupational qualifications to be in line with the new QQSF policy.

Please note that the last day to enroll in these qualifications is 31 December 2026. The occupation qualification and part qualification to be reviewed:

- Full Occupational Qualification: Cable Jointer (Electric Cable Jointer); SAQA ID 119991
- Part Occupational Qualification: Low Voltage Electric Cable Jointer; SAQA ID 119992

These qualifications are critical to the Energy Sector, and the broader economy as qualified cable jointer play a critical role by contributing to the infrastructure necessary for the supply of electricity to households, commercial enterprises, and industrial sites. Their expertise supports the installation of new infrastructure, replacement of aging systems, and contributes to a more stable electricity supply.

There are two purposes for this letter:

1. To determine whether there is a need to proceed with the review of these qualifications.
2. To request support regarding the development of the assessment instrument, question papers along with their memoranda for the current registered occupational qualifications. The QASA has been approved by the QCTO.

We have noted limited number of experts to inform technical content of both occupational qualifications.

In light of the above we request the industry stakeholder to confirm the need for EWSETA to review and develop of assessment instrument for these qualifications.

Below is Annexure A to be completed by the industry to confirm if there is a need to review and the develop assessment instrument of this occupational qualification.
